

Miki Jacobs is an internationally acclaimed medium, speaker, and author, who's life journey has been a remarkable one, beginning with a conservative Jewish upbringing, serving in the Israeli army, and later establishing a successful business in the United States. These diverse experiences have greatly contributed to her discovery of spirituality and profoundly influenced her spiritual path.

Using her ability to connect with the Spirit World, Miki has conducted thousands of readings around the globe. Through channeling, lectures, social media outlets, group readings, video and print - including her first book, Soul Secrets - Miki presents the teachings of spirits to people around the world.

Alongside her husband, Clayton, Miki has devoted two decades to the noble cause of rescuing animals on their Southern California ranch. It is this profound love for both animals and spiritual work that inspired her to write her latest book, Sacred Wild: The Spiritual World of Animals, Including Pets, and Its Interconnectedness with Ours.
